ABOUT THE ARTIST

For over two decades, Transformational Life Coach - Kelly S. Jones has guided individuals in making real changes in their lives by realigning them with the wisdom within. Dedicated to awakening humanity to love, Kelly uses the essential ingredients of love and truth to guide clients to heal the buried issues that cause pain, suffering and stagnation.

By shedding light on outdated patterns, Kelly assists clients in understanding and embracing new love-based perspectives that allow deep transformation to occur. The resulting breakthroughs lead to newfound freedom, confidence, and self-love that gives way for doors to open that were once closed, relationships to blossom that were previously wilting and even health to restore.

Then...another creative expression rose to see the light of day. Called to place paint to canvas, the sleeping artist in Kelly surfaced. Brush-stroke by brush-stroke, each piece embodies frequencies that heal and uplift through the love language of imagery, color and light. Each a meditation in their own right works with the observer's energy field.

"It is my wish to provide you the most loving & healing impressions as expressed through the written and spoken words, and painted images both verbally and artistically."

*Love,
Kelly*
